Frequently Asked Questions

Will tickets be on sale at the Games venues?

Tickets can be purchased, subject to availability, from Ticket Box Offices at the various Games venues. Some venues have limited capacity, hence we recommend that you book your tickets early to avoid disappointment.

Can I bring my infant or child to the Games? Is there free admission for children below 2 years old?

Yes. You can bring your infant or child into any Games venue. Children under 2 years of age will be admitted free of charge provided they do not occupy a seat (i.e. they must be seated with their parent/guardian).

Can I get a refund if I change my mind about watching the Games?

We regret that we are unable to entertain any requests for refunds. As stated in the Terms and Conditions of Ticket Sales and Use, ticket sales are final, and no cancellations, exchanges, or refunds will be allowed. So, please choose your preferred events carefully.

What if my tickets get lost/stolen/damaged?

Lost or stolen tickets cannot be replaced. To minimise the risk of loss, we recommend that you arrange to collect your tickets via the Authorised Ticket Counters in person. Should you choose to have your tickets delivered by courier, they will be delivered in generic packaging and you must sign for the tickets in person. Please take care of your tickets as exposure to water, dirt, heat, or sunlight may damage them. Should any part of the ticket become illegible or detached, the ticket holder may be refused admission.

Can I choose where I sit or stand?

You can choose where to sit within the designated section(s) or area(s). However, please note that no reservation of seats is allowed. Spectators are encouraged to fill the seats in a systematic and orderly manner, and avoid leaving pockets of seats or gaps.

Would I be able to enter a Games venue after an event has started? Can I re-enter should I need to exit a Games venue during an event?

For late admission, you may have to wait for an appropriate break in the session to enter the seating gallery. However, this depends on the code of conduct for individual sports and venues. Please arrive for all events on time to avoid any disruption or inconvenience to other spectators with a late entrance. If you need to exit the venue after admission, you will be provided with a re-entry stamp, tag, or pass (except for the Opening Ceremony, the Closing Ceremony and Football matches). Simply present your ticket stub to re-enter.

What if I lose something at the Games venue? Or, what if I find a lost item?

If you are looking for a lost item or should you find a lost item, please approach the venue staff or the information service booth for assistance.

What should I wear?

Singapore tends to be rather warm and humid, so light clothing and comfortable shoes are recommended.

Are there wheelchair accessible seats at all Games venues?

These are only available at some Games venues. Please visit seagames2015.com to find out where these places are.

Games Venue Must-Knows*Information Service Booth

Information service booths are available at most Games venues. Look out for them to get assistance on competition schedules, venues, lost and found items, and other general information about the Games.

Food and Beverage

Food and beverages will be sold at Games venues with existing snack counters and food centres. At venues without existing snack counters and food centres, arrangements may be made for food truck operators to sell food and drinks, where possible.

Merchandise

A wide variety of merchandise is available at selected competition venues and the official merchandise store outside Ngee Ann City.

First-aid

First-aid and emergency response medical services are available at all competition venues.

Reaching High @ ION Orchard

The Torch Up! Programme, which is modified from the traditional Torch Relay, is an initiative that enables Singaporeans to participate in and contribute to the Games with creative art installation structures.

Created by various local artists and put together by different community groups and organisations, you'll find these Torch Up! Art Installation structures scattered across the island.

There are 30 installation structures across the city in the Orchard, Bras Basah, Sports Hub, and Marina Bay precincts, with each one commemorating the 28th SEA Games. From kinetic light art installations to interactive displays that come to life with spectator participation, no two structures are alike. Yet, each Torch Up! Art Installation structure is sure to intrigue and enrich with its interpretation of the Games.

Discover all 30 Torch Up! Art Installation structures!
