1

Use a pencil to draw a simple line drawing of anything you like: an animal, a pet, your house, etc. Just make sure there aren't a lot of small details.

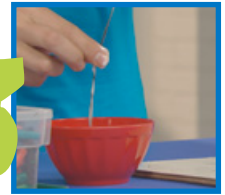

2

Measure each line in your drawing with yarn, then cut the yarn the length of the lines.

Mosaic

3

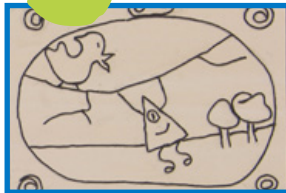

To stick the yarn to the paper, dip the yarn in the glue and water mixture. Run your finger along the yarn to wring out the glue.

4

Place the yarn along the line on your drawing. Use a toothpick to tap the yarn onto the paper—it's not as messy if you do this.

5

Cover all the lines on your drawing with yarn. Here is an example of what your drawings should look like.

6

Now for the really fun part—making the crayon mosaic! Choose several different shades of red crayons. Rub the crayons along a cheese grater onto a white piece of paper.

7

Pour the little crayon shavings into a plastic cup.

8

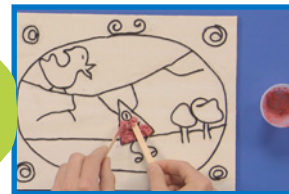

To turn the crayon shavings into a special paste, squeeze a bit of white glue into a plastic cup (cover the cup's bottom), then spoon crayon shavings into the cup.

9

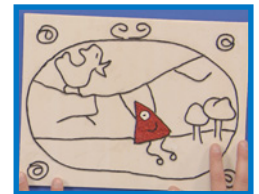

Use a wooden stir stick to mix together the crayon shavings and glue, creating a red paste.

10

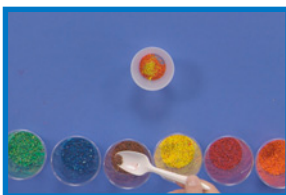

Spread the red paste onto your drawing with the stir stick. The paste is very sticky and thick, so use another stir stick to help spread it.

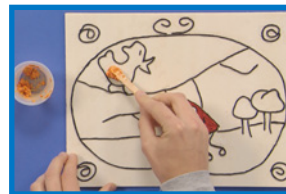

Here is an example of what your drawing will look like when the paste dries. The paint is bumpy and a deep red colour!

11

Grate more crayons to make more colour shavings. Spoon orange, yellow, and a bit of brown shavings into an empty cup. Add glue and stir.

12

Add the orange paste to your drawing. Set aside to dry.

What a neat mosaic so far!

13

Paint your entire drawing with different colours of paste. Set aside to dry. Look how amazing it turned out!
