1

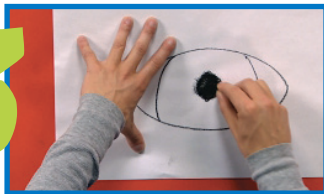

Use dark chalk to draw a big oval shape.

2

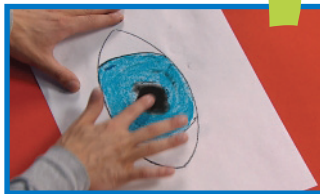

Draw two slightly curved lines in the oval to make the iris. That's the coloured part of the eye.

3

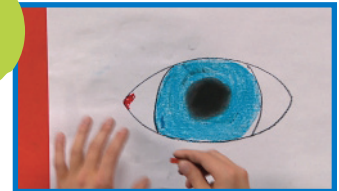

Use charcoal to make a black circle in the middle of the iris. That's called a pupil!

4

Use the side of your chalk to colour in the iris. Once it's coloured in, use your finger to blend the pupil (charcoal) into the iris (coloured chalk). This can get kind of messy.

5

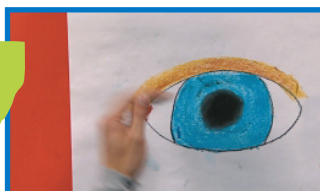

Add a little red mark in the corner of the eye. Colour the white part of the eye with white chalk. Now smudge the red mark with your finger.

6

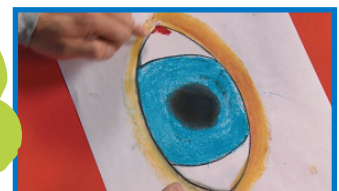

Use a different coloured chalk to draw a thick line just above the eye.

7

Use darker chalk to create more colour for shadows. Don't forget to run your fingers through to blend the colours together.

8

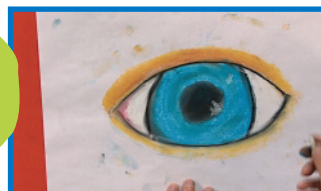

Repeat the last two steps adding a slightly thinner line to the bottom of the eye.

9

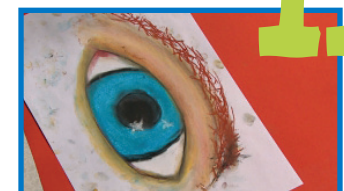

With dark chalk, go over the lines one more time...

10

Add some white chalk to the pupil to make it look like your eye sparkles.

11

Use different chalk to add an eyebrow.

That is one perfect peeper! Now that's Artzooka.
