

Monster Foot Bookends

check list:

1. piece of cardboard
2. pencil
3. scissors
4. cardboard tube
5. glue
6. styrofoam balls
7. paint
8. paintbrush
9. fun foam
10. twist ties
11. dish scrubby

Need help?

Watch the video:

www.cbc.ca/kidscbc/artzooka

Heads up - this project does require overnight "dry" time.

1

On the piece of cardboard, draw a foot shape without toes.

2

Use scissors to cut out the foot shape.

4

Now glue the styrofoam balls where you want the toes to be. Use a big styrofoam ball for the big toe and littler ones for the other toes.

5

Paint the monster leg any colour you like and set it aside to dry.

3

Glue the cardboard tube onto the heel of the foot.

6

Cut a piece of fun foam into a foot shape. Make sure that it's bigger than the monster foot.

7

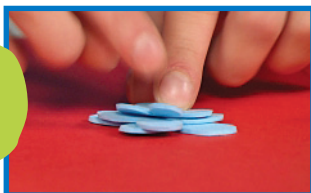

Once your leg is completely dry, glue the foot onto the fun foam. This base will help keep the monster foot from falling over.

8

Let's Artzooka some flowers! To make flowers that really pop out, cut 3 flower shapes from the fun foam.

9

Stack the flowers on top of each other. Use a twist tie to poke a hole in the middle of the flowers and twist it to hold the flowers together. Make as many flowers as you want.

10

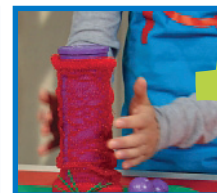

Glue the flowers to the base.

11

Add a leg warmer to your monster leg by cutting out the centre of a dish scrubby and roll it onto your monster leg!

Way to go! You've just created your very own monster bookend! Make one more bookend, put your books between them, and you've got yourself an original Artzooka masterpiece.

Print out more makes from Kids' CBC's Artzooka: <http://www.cbc.ca/kidscbc/artzooka>

