Draw a simple character on the first page of the notebook. A stick character will do! Make sure your drawing is close to the edge of the paper.

Let's animate the eyes. Start by drawing your character's eyes wide open.

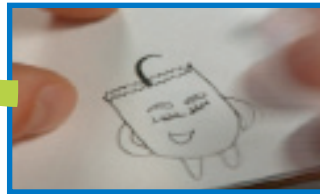

2

3

On the next page, draw the same character in the same spot on the paper. This time draw the eyes only partly open.

4

On the third page, draw your character on the same spot, but now draw the eyes completely closed.

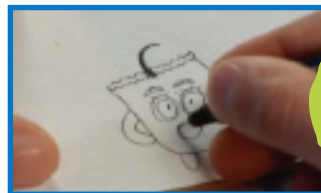

If you put your thumb on the edge of the pages and flip them quickly, it will look like the eyes are closing. To make the eyes open up again, here's what to do...

5

On the next page, draw the same character with the eyes partly open.

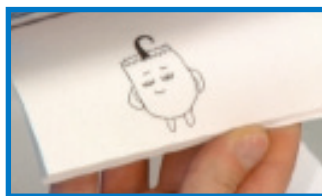

6

And then on the page after that, draw the character with the eyes completely open.

Now, when you flip all of the pages, your character's eyes will close and then open again.

7

You can keep drawing pictures like this, making small changes on each page. You can make the character's arms and legs move, you can change their expression, you can do whatever you like. Let your creativity take over.

Once you've finished all your drawings, place your thumb on the edge of the notebook and flip the pages really fast!

Tada! Your Artzooka character has come to life!
