

Backgrounds And Frames

check list:

1. paper
2. markers
3. corrugated cardboard
4. white glue
5. scissors
6. paint roller
7. paint
8. recycled styrofoam plate

Adding a background and a frame to your drawing can really bring your picture to life. Make two copies of the same drawing and see for yourself.

1

Draw a bunch of different coloured circles on the background of the first drawing.

2

On your second drawing, change the background by adding squiggly stripes.

It's the same picture, but each has a totally different look because the backgrounds are different.

You can also make frames by using corrugated cardboard, or plain cardboard, or anything that you like.

There are different ways to decorate your frames to make them look completely different. If you like you can cut out craft foam flowers and glue them onto a frame.

3

4

Or you can paint your frame. Roll the paint roller into the paint.

5

Then roll the paint onto the frame covering all sides. Because the paint only goes on the ridges of the corrugated cardboard, it makes a really cool design!

6

Set aside to dry.

See what a difference that makes? It's the same picture, but with different backgrounds and frame designs – each one an original work of Artzooka!

Add Artzooka pizzazz to your artwork by creating interesting backgrounds and fun and funky frames!

